Overview:

Quality, attractive design, crafted details, capacity for technical and design innovation, comprehensive and diversified product ranges and an extensive distribution network are some of the attributes which have made the Italian industry the most significant benchmark for refrigeration worldwide.

A long-standing
success born of
indisputable
entrepreneurial
skills and
constant
development
efforts aimed at
offering users
products which
are increasingly
closer to the
cutting edge
and which meet
specific
standards of
quality and
safety with environmental awareness.

ASSOFOODTEC
is the national association of the leading
Italian
companies
responsible for
this success,
where intensive
research is carried out into
the major
technical and
economic issues
relevant to the industry.

The activities of the association
focus
particularly on technological
advance and

development in technical
standards, both
national and
international,
with the aim of
supporting
member firms in
their efforts to satisfy a
constantly
changing and
increasingly
demanding
market.

On the strength
of its experience
and powers of
representation,
has always
offered an effective
contribution to
the work of the
leading world
standards
organizations
through the
presence of its
technical
experts, and
enjoys close
cooperation
with academic and research
communities.
It also represents a
frame of
reference and
acts as advisory
body in government

areas for the drafting of laws governing the refrigeration sector.

As regards promotion, ASSOFOODTEC provides extensive support for companies via its official presence on the international markets of greatest interest, through numerous initiatives such as participation at major trade fairs, organization of trade missions and the dissemination of information.
